IOTR Energy, is a Renewable Energy (RE) developer that delivers a range of solutions that supports the RE transitional goals and aspirations of communities and the people of the Pacific. It offers solutions that can generate and supply green energy that is convenient, accessible and value for.

Renewable energy in the Cook Islands is primarily provided by solar energy and biomass. Since 2011 the Cook Islands has embarked on a programme of renewable energy development to improve its energy security and reduce greenhouse gas emissions, [1] with an initial goal of reaching 50% renewable.

The Cook Islands Energy Storage Container Factory represents this exact fusion, delivering modular power solutions to island nations battling energy instability. As 78% of Pacific Island communities still rely on diesel generators, these shipping-container-sized systems are revolutionizing how.

With over 90% of Cook Islands' electricity generated from imported diesel, homeowners face two critical challenges: sky-high energy costs and unreliable grid access. Solar-powered energy storage systems have become the go-to solution, with installations increasing by 67% since 2020 according to.

Pre-fabricated containerized solutions now account for approximately 35% of all new utility-scale storage deployments worldwide. North America leads with 40% market share, driven by streamlined permitting processes and tax incentives that reduce total project costs by 15-25%. Europe follows closely.
