

Price Reduction for Fixed-Type Folding Containers in North Asia

Overview

HOUSTON (ICIS)–Rates for shipping containers were stable to higher this week as carriers have reduced capacity by 4-5% along the trade route amid efforts to stop the slide in prices, but capacity could surge and put downward pressure on rates if the Red Sea ceasefire holds.

Container leasing rates have soared, with some trade routes experiencing price increases of at least 50% since the start of the year. For instance, the one-way leasing rate for a 40-foot-high cube container from Ningbo to Savannah has surged to $1,500 from $800 in January, and from Shanghai to Long.

However, the current situation reveals a lack of urgency ahead of the August 7 tariff imposition deadline set by President Donald Trump, according to the latest update by analyst Freightos. This may be attributed to the weariness of shippers who previously engaged in proactive frontloading, leading.
