The City of Wellington is set to make significant strides in renewable energy by launching a new solar array in collaboration with KPP Energy. As part of its ongoing efforts to diversify its energy resources, the city has received a shipment of solar panels and is preparing to begin construction.

Our Wellington systems use wind-rated, seismic-secure mounting hardware—designed to withstand the city's notorious winds and meet all earthquake resilience standards for lasting peace of mind. From design and consenting to supply, installation, and ongoing maintenance, Solar Hub NZ delivers.

Installing solar panels can be a more cost-effective and sustainable way to provide electricity for your home. Solar panels use the power of the sun to generate electricity for your home. Panels can be placed on a roof or on the ground. Any extra electricity you generate during the day and don't.

In Wellington, New Zealand, situated at latitude -41.2923814 and longitude 174.7787463, the average daily solar energy production per kW of installed solar capacity varies across seasons. During summer, the highest generation occurs with an average of 7.14 kWh/day per kW, while winter experiences.

With Wellington's moderate sunshine—averaging around 2,000 hours annually—solar energy offers significant savings and environmental benefits, even in the city's variable climate. We've selected three top-tier solar installation companies known for their expertise, quality systems, and exceptional.
